Dear Mr. Zavadil

ASNT Certification Services (ASNT CS) hereby issues this formal attestation of recognition for the ATG CERT ISO 9712:2021 personnel certification program meeting the Requirements of the ASNT 9712:2021 Certification scheme.

This recognition is based on a comprehensive review and an onsite validation conducted October 21–24, 2025, in accordance with ASNT CS Recognition Validation Procedure PRO-REC-601 and international standards. Through this process ASNT CS has determined that the ATG CERT ISO 9712 certification program is compatible in structure, governance, and implementation with the ASNT 9712:2021 certification program.

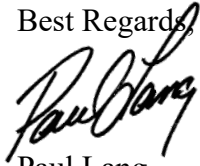

Based on this determination, ASNT Certification Services recognizes ATG CERT as a qualified partner organization and affirms ATG’s capability to administer certification activities aligned with ASNT 9712 requirements.

Furthermore, through this framework of program recognition alignment, ATG CERT is authorized to offer all ASNT 9712 certifications available through its approved processes, subject to adherence to ASNT CS requirements, oversight provisions, and ongoing compliance with applicable standards and procedures.

This attestation reflects ASNT CS confidence in ATG's technical rigor, quality systems, and commitment to maintaining the integrity of personnel certification in nondestructive testing.

We commend ATG for its professionalism and diligence throughout the review process and look forward to continued collaboration in expanding access to high-quality NDT certification globally.
